

World TB Day 2010 PSA (:30)

Many people think tuberculosis is a disease of the past and no longer threatens us today, but the fact is, among infectious diseases worldwide, TB is the leading killer of adults, with an estimated 1.8 million TB-related deaths in 2008.

World TB Day is March 24. Until TB is eliminated, World TB Day won't be a celebration.

To learn more about TB, visit www.cdc.gov/TB.

A message from CDC.